A Ministry of Defence scheme designed to help home buyers

Getting onto the property ladder can be challenging for Army, Navy and RAF personnel, but help is at hand with the Forces Help to Buy scheme*.

This Ministry of Defence initiative designed to help military personnel to buy their first property enables serving personnel to borrow up to 50% of their salary up to a maximum £25,000, as a deposit and towards moving costs such as solicitor's fees.

The loan can be repaid over a period of 10 years and a number of repayment options are available.

“Claire & Sofia really went above & beyond on explaining everything about the house we were proposing to buy. They definitely have excellent product knowledge of both the estate & locality. We would definitely recommend Wild Walk & the two sales executives in the showhome.”
